Christian Civilization is about life, freedom and human rights to live in dignity. Any attempt to destroy human beings or oppression and restriction of freedom violates the basic human rights endorsed by The United Nations Universal Declaration (Dec. 1948) protects civil and political rights, like the right to life, liberty, free speech and privacy.

The silhouette of the house has its foundations built on a circle to evoke the universality of the mission of the Little Sisters of the Poor. It is also a protective circle. Its circumference becomes a door, which expresses access to a world of welcoming in charity. The door signifies a place of passage, inviting others to enter. "I am the gate. Whoever enters through me will be saved" (Jn. 10:9). Our Parish Community is delighted to have Sisters with us this weekend.

Sponsorship with a dedication of Bibles or Catholic Catechisms for our church pews is available. Page with dedication to memory of someone from your family, friend, priest or religious whom you wish to commemorate will be permanently inserted in the books. The books with dedications will remain in our church on the pews. Single dedication requires $15. Five dollars will be retained for the potential World Youth Day Pilgrims who in 2022 will go to Portugal.

The early Christians took Jesus at his word, and understood his inculcations of gentleness and non-resistance in their literal sense. They closely identified their religion with peace; they strongly condemned war for the bloodshed which it involved; they appropriated to themselves the Old Testament prophecy which foretold the transformation of the weapons of war into the implements of agriculture; they declared that it was their policy to return good for evil and to conquer evil with good. Church anti-war teachings derive from the Judeo-Christian Bible's multiple anti-war teachings and principles. Christ Jesus as "Prince of Peace" is for peace. Isaiah 7:14 and 9:1-7. Thus, Christ overruled the war "traditions of men" (over 14,000 wars), Matthew 15:9, Mark 7:6-8.

Pacem in Terris: "Encyclical of Pope John XXIII on establishing universal peace in truth, justice, charity, and liberty", April 11, 1963. "Peace on Earth—which man throughout the ages has so longed for and sought after—can never be established, never guaranteed, except by the diligent observance of the divinely established order. That a marvelous order predominates in the world of living beings and in the forces of nature, is the plain lesson which the progress of modern research and the discoveries of technology teach us. And it is part of the greatness of man that he can appreciate that order, and devise the means for harnessing those forces for his own benefit."

80 years have passed since the World War II erupted on 1st Sep.1939

The bronze sculpture "Let Us Beat Swords into Plowshares" (Is.2-4) by Soviet sculptor Evgeny Vuchetich, located in the North garden, was presented to the UN on 4 Dec. 1959. It represents the figure of a man holding a hammer in one hand and, in the other, a sword which he is making into a ploughshare, symbolizing man's desire to put an end to war and convert the means of destruction into creative tools for the benefit of all mankind. This work received the highest award - the "Grand Prix" diploma at the Brussels World Exhibition of 1958.
